Overview:

Cambodia Today began in 1995. It was published three issues per week. It claimed to begin printing daily in June 1995, but based on the available issues in hand the claim did not seem true at all. No further information and update about the paper could be traced during the course of this research. The current list by the Ministry of Information posted on its website (February, 2012) also does not provide any information about the paper. This certainly indicates that the paper is no longer in operation, but the exact date is unknown.

According to the available issues, the paper provided coverage for both national and international news. However and not surprisingly, the national news was seen as the main focus of the paper that covered broadly ranging of topics included business, economic, social and political issues.

There was no source confirming the political stand or affiliation of the paper found during the course of this research. Presumably, the paper was a neutral one.
