Overview:

The paper was founded in 1993. The paper itself stated that it was printed 1,200 copies and sold at 400 Riel per copy. There was no information about the paper was found during the course of this research. Also, the current list by the Ministry of Information posted on its website (February, 2012) does not provide any information about the paper. Therefore, it is very likely that the paper is not in operations. However, no specific date and source has confirmed on this.

Yale University Library holds only two issues of the paper that were published in May and July 1993. Based on those two issues, the paper provided for only national coverage on social and political issues. The social issues often included crimes and violence while the political issue was often very critical to the politicians, senior government officials, government and especially the two Prime Ministers. There was no source confirming the political stand of the paper, but an interesting note from the paper itself it seemed that the paper was a pro Mr Penh Sovann who claimed to be a founder of the Khmer nationalist force that overthrew Khmer Rouge and who a Prime Minister in early 1980s.
