Finding Yale University Library Resources

- Business and Management Subject Guide
  https://guides.library.yale.edu/business
- Business Ethics in a Global Economy Class Guide
  https://guides.library.yale.edu/EPE311-GLBL205
- When you are away from campus: Connect to the Yale network using VPN to access library resources
  https://web.library.yale.edu/help/off-campus-access-vpn

Company Information Databases

Public companies have shares of stock that are traded on stock exchanges. These companies are regulated and required to disclose financial and governance information to their shareholders.

- D&B Hoovers: company information for both public and private companies around the world. This database also contains industry reports from Datamonitor (MarketLine) and Euromonitor (Passport).
- S&P NetAdvantage: company information for both public and private companies around the world.
- Business Source Complete: Datamonitor (MarketLine) company reports, which provide SWOT analyses.
- Nexis Uni: “Company Dossiers” for both public and private companies, which includes a list of recent legal cases involving the company.
- PrivCo: information about private companies based in the United States.
- Thomson ONE: information about public companies around the world. This database also contains analyst reports from major investment banks such as JP Morgan, Credit Suisse, and Deutsche Bank. Thomson ONE also provides access to GlobalData reports, which provide SWOT analyses.

Private companies do not have shares traded on stock exchanges. These companies are typically not required to disclose financial information publicly.

Industry Information Databases

- IBISWorld: industry reports with key statistics, forecasts, product overviews, and competitive landscape.
- S&P NetAdvantage: CFRA industry surveys with industry trends, key ratios, and guides for analyzing companies within the industry.
- Passport (Euromonitor): statistics and analysis of companies, industries, economies, and consumers.
Articles and News Databases

- Business Source Complete: full-text access to scholarly journals, trade publications, and business magazines. Content includes the Harvard Business Review, Forbes, and Bloomberg Businessweek.
- ABI/Inform Collection: access to scholarly journals, trade publications, magazines, and newspapers. Content includes the Wall Street Journal and The Economist.
- Factiva: access to trade publications and newspapers. Content includes the Wall Street Journal, Barron’s, and the Washington Post.
- Nexis Uni: access to newspapers, trade journals, magazines, and legal information. Content includes Euromoney and American Banker.

Open Web Resources

- Company Investor Relations Website: public companies have open web investor relations websites that can be accessed by entering [company name] investor relations into a search engine. These websites provide financial and governance information, and increasingly have sections dedicated to sustainability and corporate social responsibility.
- Business and Human Rights Resource Centre: news and reports tracking companies’ human rights policies and violations around the world.
- Good Jobs First: investigates corporate and governmental accountability in economic development. Offers tools such as Subsidy Tracker, Corporate Rap Sheet, and Violation Tracker.
- SOMO: research center focusing on how multinational corporations affect society and the environment.